CRANSTON, RHODE ISLAND, USA

Epoxies, Etc. continues to enjoy a long and beneficial relationship with our customers and friends. For more than twenty years, we have been steadfast in providing personalized, flexible customer service and customized epoxy, urethane and silicone solutions for many needs.

As we continue to diversify and expand our product offerings to meet our customer needs and the needs of an ever-changing environment, we have decided to revise our corporate brand. The new brand, which includes our logo and tag line, better reflects our position as your partner and an industry leader. The new design and tagline reflects a more flexible, customized business approach-something all of us at Epoxies, Etc. take great pride in.

Moving forward, we will be phasing in the new brand on all of our materials. Be sure to keep an eye out for our new look.
